Encountering Mary Sandra L. Zimdars-Swartz, 2014-07-14 In the past two centuries hundreds of apparitions of the Virgin Mary have been reported, drawing crowds to the seers and the sites and constituting events of great religious significance for millions of people worldwide. Here Sandra Zimdars-Swartz provides a detective-like investigation of the experiences and interpretations of six major apparitions, including those at La Salette and Lourdes in France during the mid-nineteenth century; at Fatima, Portugal, in 1917; and the more recent ones at San Damiano, Italy; Garabandal, Spain; and Medjugorje, Yugoslavia, where the apparitions continue. Adopting a phenomenological approach to these encounters with Mary--one that is neither apologetic nor antagonistic--the author explores the tension between the personal meaning of the events for their subjects and the public appropriation of this meaning by a larger religious community. Along the way she examines the backgrounds of the seers, their willingness or reluctance to talk about the apparitions and their messages, the amount of emotional support they received from family and community as news of the apparitions spread, the reports of miracles at apparition sites, the reactions of local authorities, and the steps taken by the Roman Catholic Church in officially recognizing or rejecting the apparitions as worthy of belief. The author concludes with a survey of religious worldviews based on Marian apparitions, focusing especially on the now-popular transcultural apocalyptic nature of these messages to the modern world. Base Ball Founders Peter Morris,William J. Ryczek,Jan Finkel,2013-07-20 This book completes the series of histories of the clubs and players responsible for making baseball the national pastime that began with Base Ball Pioneers, 1850-1870 (McFarland 2011). Forty clubs and hundreds of pioneer players from the first hotbeds of New York City, Philadelphia, New Jersey, and Massachusetts are profiled by leading experts on baseball's early years. The subjects include legendary clubs such as the Knickerbockers of New York, the Eckfords and Atlantics of Brooklyn, the Athletics of Philadelphia, and Harvard's first baseball clubs, and fabled players like Jim Creighton, Dickey Pearce, and Daniel Adams, but space is also given to less well remembered clubs such as the Champion Club of Jersey City and the Cummaquids of Barnstable, Massachusetts. What united all of these founders of the game was that their love of baseball during its earliest years helped to make it the national pastime.

New York PARADISE LOST Meryl Meisler,2021-06-18 The mind is its own place and in itself can make a heaven of hell, a hell of heaven. John Milton, Paradise LostNew York PARADISE LOST Bushwick Era Disco is an intimate photographic journey to the pandemonium and paradise of New York City during the 1970s through the early 1990s. Carrying her camera everywhere, Meryl documented a tumultuous time in the city's history; epidemics of arson, AIDS, crack, and crime intensified by a paralyzing blackout, political and fiscal crisis. Nevertheless, Meryl's effervescent images are a personal memoir - love letters filled with compassion and humor mixed with angst, kept secret for decades. The viewer explores a serpentine-like adventure. Split seconds of a flash expose hedonistic hangouts filled with overtly sexual and drug activity, celebrities, and people out to have a good time. Daylight reveals the beauty of those who loved and thrived in the destruction of Bushwick. Unique to New York PARADISE LOST, Meryl reveals an insider's point of view of Bushwick's school life - students, staff, and families working together to create a safer space to learn and grow despite societal ills of poverty and prejudice. Meryl's photos show the beginnings of the local community and government working together to rebuild Bushwick. From one small neighborhood and a larger city on the brink- new music, art, fashion, literature, creative thinking, and culture emerge and remain influential today. Flash forward four decades - many bemoan the gentrification of cities like New York City, the renaissance of small towns and neighborhoods like Bushwick. There is nostalgia for a realness and a sense of community lost in the process of change. New York PARADISE LOST Bushwick Era Disco is a story of discovery, tenacity, and the resilient human spirit that can inspire us today. Then and now, individuals and communities must work together locally and globally to recover from a crisis. From our losses, may we learn, preserve, create and appreciate with renewed strength.

The Rebel Line Elochukwu C. Amucheazi,2000

They Were Us Kanyi Wyban,2021-10-24 This project attempts to document the lives of families impacted by Extra-Judicial Executions (EJE), people living within the informal settlements that are excluded from the prosperous modern project of the urban center. Residents of these neighborhoods hail from a long lineage of resilient people who have had to constantly defend their right to the city, despite continuous attempts at evictions, land grabbing and demolitions in their localities. Residents of these neighborhoods hail from a long lineage of resilient people who have had to constantly defend their right to the city, despite continuous attempts at evictions, land grabbing, and demolitions in their localities. The documentary digs into the systemic causes of EJE through showing how community members in some of the poorest neighborhoods are impacted by Nairobi's informal policy of state-sanctioned violence in the name of seeking safe communities. In these cases, police officers are an extension of government security policies crafted by the political elite and are too often part of a government criminalization of poverty. Police might be the ones pulling the trigger, but the orders and protection of rogue police are given from above. Inherent in the notion of State militarized identity are ideas of safety and protection which very easily justify the administration of violence and manipulation of fear. In such cases, narratives of security are used to legitimize 'shoot-to-kill' policing and alarming rates of extrajudicial killings. In this sense, security is contained in an imagined urgent need to 'stabilize', 'control', or 'eliminate', rather than in a sense of protecting fundamental human rights. The project team consists of Mama Victor (Benna Buluma), writer Wyban Kanyi, and photographer Betty Press.
