The New School Leader for the 21st Century, the Principal Edward H. Seifert, James A. Vornberg, 2002 Addressing the six standards created by the Interstate School Leaders Consortium (ISLLC), Seifert and Vornberg employ case studies to discuss those issues faced by practicing elementary and secondary principals. Each chapter concludes with student activities that address the concepts discussed in the chapter. An instructor's manual is also available as a separate purchase.

Lead from the Start Tommy Reddicks, Tina Merriweather Seymour, 2019 In Lead From the Start: How to Succeed as the New Principal of Your School, authors Tommy Reddicks and Tina Merriweather Seymour condense their cumulative decades of experience as school leaders into a guide for both new and veteran leaders. The authors note that, while there is no perfect system, great leadership can be achieved through a pinpoint focus on simple, strategic systems. Thus, this book provides a deeply informative and experience-based look at how leaders coming into a school can quickly develop best practices, leverage their creativity, avoid reactive processes, and more. The book goes a step further, providing numerous personal accounts and first-hand experiences, times for reflection, and discussion questions that will allow the reader to better comprehend and implement these lessons. Using this book, readers will be able to develop a unique system of leadership best practices that will not only keep them in the leadership role through the tumultuous early years, but allow them to improve their schools and ensure better outcomes for students, staff, and the school--

Preparing School Leaders for Success Susan M. Gates, Matthew D. Baird, Laura S. Hamilton, 2019 This report analyzes whether schools and students led by graduates of New Leaders' Aspiring Principals program outperformed comparison schools and students in the same district.

You're the Principal! Now What? Jen Schwanke, 2016-08-11 Candid advice and specific, practical strategies to help new principals meet the challenges of the job and thrive as a leader.

The Leader in Me Stephen R. Covey, 2012-12-11 Children in today's world are inundated with information about who to be, what to do and how to live. But what if there was a way to teach children how to manage priorities, focus on goals and be a positive influence on the world around them? The Leader in Me is that programme. It's based on a hugely successful initiative carried out at the A.B. Combs Elementary School in North Carolina. To hear the parents of A. B Combs talk about the school is to be amazed. In 1999, the school debuted a programme that taught The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People to a pilot group of students. The parents reported an incredible change in their children, who blossomed under the programme. By the end of the following year the average end-of-grade scores had leapt from 84 to 94. This book will launch the message onto a much larger platform. Stephen R. Covey takes the 7 Habits, that have already changed the lives of millions of people, and shows how children can use them as they develop. Those habits -- be proactive, begin with the end in mind, put first things first, think win-win, seek to understand and then to be understood, synergize, and sharpen the saw -- are critical skills to learn at a young age and bring incredible results, proving that it's never too early to teach someone how to live well.

Principal Leadership Elaine L. Wilmore, 2002-04-18 The first to make the connection between the new standards and the principal's leadership role in creating and sustaining a school's culture and values, this simple, consistent format includes a standard, followed by the philosophical framework and case studies.

Change Leadership Tony Wagner, Robert Kegan, Lisa Laskow Lahey, Richard W. Lemons, Jude Garnier, Deborah Helsing, Annie Howell, Harriette Thurber Rasmussen, 2012-06-28 The Change Leadership Group at the Harvard School of Education has, through its work with educators, developed a thoughtful approach to the transformation of schools in the face of increasing demands for accountability. This book brings the work of the Change Leadership Group to a broader audience, providing a framework to analyze the work of school change and exercises that guide educators through the development of their practice as agents of change. It exemplifies a new and powerful approach to leadership in schools.

Starting Up Lisa Arrastia, Marvin Hoffman, 2015-04-24 Starting Up is a collection of first-person accounts by some of the best-known founders of new schools in America. Providing the kind of knowledge that only experience can teach, it is an invaluable resource for anyone in the process of or thinking about opening a new school, as well as those interested in the politics of today's era of new school development. The authors share how they worked to make their educational aspirations a reality while wrestling with social and economic obstacles, such as the distressed state of the communities in which these schools operated and the constant competition for resources. Starting Up tells real stories that capture the rich sense of possibility that currently exists for urban education. Book Features: Behind the scenes accounts from the founders of innovative K-12 schools created to better serve primarily poor communities across the country. Lessons learned from school leaders, including both the rewards and challenges associated with starting a new school. An introduction by Pedro Noguera that situates start ups within current economic and political realities. Lisa Arrastía is the middle school principal at United Nations International School in New York. Her work in the classroom is the focus of the Emmy-nominated PBS documentary Making the Grade. Marvin Hoffman is the founding director of The University of Chicago Charter School, North Kenwood/Oakland campus and the associate director of the University's Urban Teacher Education Program. "These are educators who recognize that although urban public schools are often deeply flawed and dysfunctional, they don't have to be, and they are educators who act on the belief that it is possible to create schools that nurture and support the hopes and aspirations of those they serve.” —From the Foreword by Pedro Noguera, New York University “How might we reimagine our schools? This book offers a guide from those who have experienced firsthand the trials and tribulations of trying to create a school from the bottom up. It asks all the right questions, both the practical and the pedagogical. It feels like essential reading as we reconsider how our urban schools should look and function.” —Alex Kotlowitz, bestselling author of There Are No Children Here and The Other Side of the River

The School Superintendency M. Scott Norton, 1996 Intended as a book on the school superintendency, however other audiences such as practicing school superintendents and school board members will find the book useful as well.

A School Leaders Manual for Opening a New School Jane Garraux, 2019-10-28 A School Leader's Manual for Opening a New School is a blueprint for school administrators embarking on the challenge of opening a new school. Opening a new school is one of the most challenging, rewarding adventures any school leader can experience. This book is designed to assist in this endeavor by outlining best practices, while providing administrators the flexibility to adapt each suggestion to the needs of their school communities. Since opening a new school is not a scripted practice and varies with each school district, this book addresses the process from the time school leadership is assigned until the school year begins, providing insights on how to plan and prepare for the first day of school. Gain new understanding of funding, furniture, technology, instructional programs, policies, safety, staffing, professional development, and more! By using the tools presented in this book, school leaders can spend less time planning the minutiae and more time creating innovative programs to make their schools exceptional.

Innovative Pathways to School Leadership , 2005-07-01 A strong school leader is an indispensable ingredient for school improvement. We need to tap new sources for school leaders, as well as support the talented educators already in the system. School dist., states, higher ed. inst., & others have developed promising programs that draw new talent into leadership roles & provide job-embedded prep. & support to ensure the success of these leaders in schools. This guide highlights 6 of these programs: Boston Principle Fellowship Program; First Ring Leadership Acad., Cleveland, OH; LAUNCH (Leadership Acad. & Urban Network for Chicago); NJ EXCEL; New Leaders for New Schools, N.Y., Chicago, Wash., DC, Memphis, & San Francisco Bay Area; & Principals Excellence Program, Pike Cty., KY. The Joy of Coaching Rebecca Frazier, 2020-08-06 The secrets of coaching excellence are already inside you Successful coaching has long been seen as a mental exercise—in order to do right by the teachers you serve, you put theory into practice, establish orderly processes, analyze data effectively, and implement externally mandated reforms. The truth, though, is that truly great coaches derive their success not just from what they do, but also from who they are. This groundbreaking book, based on research from an innovative mixed-methods study, provides a holistic approach to coaching that honors both mind and heart. As you explore the most important characteristics of the best instructional coaches—caring, authenticity, trustworthiness, flexibility, and more—you'll develop and hone those same characteristics in yourself. Features include: · A framework and structure for developing the characteristics of effective instructional coaches · Comprehensive analysis of each characteristic · Examples and stories of effective coaching in action · Activities, exercises, and action points · Resources for encouragement and renewal School coaches have the power to make a real difference in the lives and futures of teachers and students. By balancing your outward competencies with the inspirational application of your own inward growth, you'll bring new joy—and success—into your coaching relationships.

The Principal John T. Seyfarth, 1999 This book discusses the changes underway in American society that affect the schools and the work of principals. This book is intended to help prepare individuals to act effectively to meet the challenges facing principals which are: finding effective ways to educate an increasingly diverse student population, responding to demands for increased accountability for student learning, and working to implement sound school based decision-making practices. Covers such topics as: transformational leadership, responsive schools, school-based decision-making, total quality management, cultural leadership, programs for special needs students, legal issues, a safe and orderly environment, and curriculum. For school principals or those preparing to be principals.

Renewal Carolyn J Cameron, 2021-03-07 Unquestioned educational practices must be re-examined. In this book, Cameron interrogates the current school system. She draws on research, the practice of colleagues and her own experiences as a teacher and principal to create pictures of possibility for our schools where every learner belongs and succeeds.

New Primary Leaders, 2018 New primary leaders face significant challenges worldwide and this book brings together the range of those experiences and challenges for the first time. It includes interviews with primary school leaders in the early years of leadership in 12 different countries. Each chapter begins with an introduction to the principal and the local context before the principal's own description of her or his experience as a new leader. The leaders discuss how they prepared for principalship, their experiences after taking up the post, the extent to which the job meets with their expectations and their hopes and fears for the future. The final chapter provides a comparative overview, exploring new principals' perceptions of key influences on schools and their communities, their reactions to the multiple, heightened and often-conflicting expectations, pressures and challenges they encounter and the implications for principal preparation internationally. The voices of principals from around the world provide a vivid and authentic picture of new school leaders in different contexts at the beginning of the 21st century.--

New-School Leader Kathy David, 2018-08-15 The traditional models for leadership are quickly becoming outdated in our ever-changing world. It's time for a New-School Leader! New-School Leaders are agile, well-rounded individuals who are adaptable, self-aware, and intentional. They understand that to be successful, they need to be well-developed in every area of their life and they are willing to invest in themselves to accomplish that. New-School Leader is both inspirational and informative, providing strategies to help you increase your leadership capacity and activate your leadership success. The 206 ideas contained in the book offer insight, wisdom, sustenance, and direction for your New-School leadership path.

The Wiley International Handbook of Educational Leadership Duncan Waite, Ira Bogotch, 2017-04-10 A provocative and authoritative compendium of writings on leadership in education from distinguished scholar-educators worldwide. What is educational leadership? What are some of the trends, questions, and social forces most relevant to the current state of education? What are the possible futures of education, and what can educational leadership contribute to these futures? To address these questions, and more, editors Duncan Waite and Ira Bogotch asked distinguished international thought leaders on education to share their insights, observations, and research findings on the nature of education and educational leadership in the global village. The Wiley International Handbook of Educational Leadership brings together contributions from authors in twenty-one countries, spanning six continents. Topics examined include leadership and aesthetics, creativity, eco-justice, advocacy, Big Data and technology, neoliberalism, emerging philosophies and theories, critical democracy, gender and radical feminism, political economies, emotions, postcolonialism, and new directions in higher education. A must-read for teachers, researchers, scholars, and policy makers, this Handbook: Champions radical pluralism over consensus and pseudoscientific or political solutions to problems in education Embraces social, economic, and political relevance alongside the traditions of careful and systematic rigor Challenges traditional epistemological, cultural, and methodological concepts of education and educational leadership Explores the field's historical antecedents and ways in which leadership can transcend the narrow disciplinary and bureaucratic constraints imposed by current research designs and methods Advances radically new possibilities for remaking educational leadership research and educational institutions
